

Accessible Voting Day

Example copy for social media posts

People with a learning disability have the same right to vote as everyone else.

That's why we're supporting @unitedresponse's #AccessibleVotingDay on March 4.

Find out more at: www.accessiblevotingday.org

Some people will need more support than others to vote and accessible information is a big part of that.

We will provide easy read materials for the upcoming elections, so people with disabilities aren't left out of the conversation.

#AccessibleVotingDay @unitedresponse

We're proud to support @unitedresponse #AccessibleVotingDay because voting and elections should be accessible to all.

Find out more at: www.accessiblevotingday.org

Everybody has the right to be involved in politics.

That's why I'm/we're showing our support for #AccessibleVotingDay on Thursday 4 March.

@unitedresponse

Voting should be accessible to everyone who has the legal right to vote.

Join us and @unitedresponse and show your support for the first ever #AccessibleVotingDay!

Accessible Voting Day

Example copy for social media posts cont.

Politicians make decisions that directly affect my life, so I should be able to vote without barriers.

#AccessibleVotingDay

I'm supporting #AccessibleVotingDay because I should be able to access support and information to help me vote in elections.

@unitedresponse

I'm supporting @unitedresponse #AccessibleVotingDay because I should be able to vote without barriers.

I'm supporting someone to vote in elections because people with disabilities have a right to decide who represents them.

Visit the @unitedresponse website for free #AccessibleVotingDay resources:
www.accessiblevotingday.org

I'm proud to support @unitedresponse #AccessibleVotingDay because elections and the voting process should be accessible to all.

We're proud to support #AccessibleVotingDay!

Download free easy read materials about elections and voting from the @unitedresponse website here: www.accessiblevotingday.org